HISTORY

Trains, Saints, and Martyrs will be forever cherished in Midland. Your Captain's Cove neighborhood brings you from the Age of Steam and great railway behemoths, to Sainte Marie Among the Hurons, the Huronia Museum and the Huron Village – all unique features in the compelling story of Midland and Canada. From the front door of your Captain's Cove home, you have access to many of the historical attractions in the Midland area year round.

NATURE

The majestic Trumpeter Swan, thought to be extinct in the area 50 years ago, now thrives in Wye Marsh – a five-minute walk or canoe ride from your front door – and birds rarely seen elsewhere migrate to the area every spring. The Trans-Canada Trail is steps away from your Captain's Cove home where wildlife and hikers share brief encounters along the way. This is an adventurer's paradise where you can even choose a round of golf, or just nestle down with a great book.

to 30,000
ISLANDS

Midland is the Gateway to Georgian Bay and an endless summer that beckons you to explore – by canoe, kayak, sailboat, powerboat – or aboard Miss Midland, a 300-passenger cruise ship on which you can sit back – and let the blue above and the blue below take you gliding on a journey through 30,000 islands. In that sense, and for all your senses, Captain's Cove, by Remington Homes, is your Gateway to the Gateway of Georgian Bay.
